WHEEL CHAIR CAN'T STOP
GROVER R.A. COUNSELOR

GROVER, N.C. --(BP)-- It will take more than a wheel chair to stop Mrs. Charles Everett of Grover First Baptist Church from being co-sponsor of two Royal Ambassador chapters of her church.

She doesn't have to go to meetings -- the boys just come to her home where they have their own room equipped for their work and mission study.

Two and a half years ago Mrs. Everett, confined to a wheel chair for ten years, became co-sponsor with her husband of the Intermediate R.A.'s (boys 13-16) and set up the room in their home for them to use as a meeting place. Less than a year later, the Junior R.A.'s (boys 9-12) were coming to the Everett house too.

"In all churches it seems difficult to secure leaders for Royal Ambassadors," Mrs. Everett said. "Yet no work is more important than training those who will be the men of our churches in such a few years."

Thus Mrs. Everett means it when she says it will take more than a wheel chair to stop her from being their counselor.
